All in the DETAILS

The most stylish themes and gorgeous decor ideas to consider for your wedding reception

Woodland WONDER

Go back to nature with a romantic colour scheme and wild details

We might be slowly edging towards spring and yes, you may well be craving sunshine and vitamin D and warmth - but if you're an autumn bride-to-be then you're going to adore this shoot. Filled with seasonal shades and the kind of rich, evocative details that autumn/winter weddings just do so well, it's a feast for the eyes and the soul. The location? The ever-popular Kington House, a beautiful Georgian manor, rich in character and nestled in the rolling hills of Dorset. The shoot took place inside three cosy Nordic tipis, pitched up on the property's front lawn and adorned with endless twinkling twigs of fairy lights. Key to the decor? A natural influence. Raw wood, fresh greens, and berry purples were used throughout, with metallic details on the reception table serving as a reminder of the over-the-top decadence of the theme. A table of cakes adorned impressively neatly with roses and gold-dipped berries serving as theme-perfect toppers. On the subject of flowers, the motto here was big, bold and seasonal. The whole shade spectrum of purple was incorporated, from dusky pinks all the way through to deepest, darkest violets. Greenery was also key to the look, with hanging foliage adding to the slightly wild, entirely glamorous feel of the theme.

Contrast is rich, brought with wild, romantic sprigs and flowers in your hair
